Remarks:

The ceiling has hit! The 3000 market has slowed down the buying momentum. The volume has been identical for this week indicating quite a strong selling. The market did fall and close at 1922 which is a daily support zone, but next week the index might test its lower support zones just to confirm the strength of the market. The MACD has just turned bullish on the weekly level, A change in direction of the market will take its time to register into the MACD indicator.

This week:

On a daily timeframe,

The sellers have been active as the index tests it long waited resistance. Many participants might have reacted to this area, and by the looks of it. It does seem like it will test its lower regions as well. Hopefully the market shall soon make a support few points below. Ultimately continuing the uptrend.

Further reaction and timing from the market shall reveal more about the current economic/ political situation.

Support	Resistance
Support 1: 2920	Resistance 1: 3000
